The men behind Our Smooth Dining Service

TWO men who play a major part in maintaining the exceptionally high standard of Tattersall's Club dining-room are (left) our head-waiter, Mr. W. Beveridge, and (right) our chef, Mr. S. Tomic.

Both possess the highest qualifications, and their judgment on all phases of their profession is superb.

Tattersall's Club dining-room, on the fourth floor, has a well-earned reputation for the ultimate in smooth, pleasing service.

When a guest enters, he is immediately conscious of the friendly atmosphere which prevails at all times.

The attractive menu, selected with the utmost care by men of world-wide experience, has evoked tremendous praise over the years.

Should a guest desire a special dish not appearing on the menu he has merely to mention his request to Mr. Beveridge.

With his wide experience, Mr. Tomic prides himself on being able to accommodate such requests.

Ultra-modern

Tattersall's Club possesses an ultra-modern kitchen, with every facility for quick service.

Meals are brought to the guests in electrically-heated food mobiles.

Visitors to our dining-room are always impressed by the magnificent views from the windows. It is yet another feature which makes dining at Tattersall's Club a delight.

The dining-room is open for luncheon from 12.30 p.m. to 2.15 p.m., Mondays to Fridays, inclusive.

The hours for dinner are 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Our very popular dance-nights are Thursday and Saturday nights, when dinner is served from 6 p.m. until 8.30 p.m., and dancing continues to 11 p.m.

"Concert-nights," featuring outstanding artists, are held once a month.

SUPERBLY WAS "SUPERB"

CLUB MEMBER
W. I. Hill was showered with congratulations at Rosehill on November 2 when his horse, Superbly, won its first race.

"W.I.", to put it mildly, had not enjoyed the best of luck with Superbly.

Carrying the yellow, dark blue and white striped sleeves and yellow cap, Superbly, as usual, looked a picture when he went out to do battle on November 2.

Everyone got a shock when Superbly, after jumping smartly, was taken to the front by his hitherto relatively inexperienced apprentice rider, John Hampton.

But Superbly showed a clean pair of heels to the opposition, and went past the post two lengths in front of second horse Essayist.

"W.I.'s" hand was very sore next day. His many friends, knowing how trying it is to have a horse who runs placing after placing without winning, were not slow to wish him well in his change of racing fortune.

"W.I." once owned that very handy galloper, Adios, who, among other races, landed a Tattersall's Tramway Handicap.

Only for some bad luck, Adios might have taken out some of Australia's richest sprint events.

"W.I." is a club-member in the true sense of the word. He makes use of Tattersall's Club's facilities, and his remarks during snooker contests on the second floor are always well worth listening to.

In fact, sometimes "W.I." has a bigger "gallery" watching his games than do some of the current stars.

And even the "stars" could learn a thing or two about laying snookers by occasionally glancing across to where Bill is in action.

Superbly runs home — an easy winner.

McCarthy in vital Golf win

"JACK" McCARTHY.

TATTERSALL'S CLUB member, R. I. ("Jack") McCarthy, was the central figure in an epic golfing tussle in Melbourne on November 13.

For it was Jack whose final victory enabled New South Wales to retain the Paxton Shield—the symbol of interstate amateur golf supremacy.

New South Wales was playing Victoria at the Commonwealth Club.

A big gallery was present to see Jack McCarthy face up to Bobby Bull in the deciding game.

Bull was out in 33, and a standard of play such as this might have demoralised any ordinary opponent.

But Jack McCarthy revels in the hard going, and is at his absolute best when the pressure is on. Therefore, even after Bull's high-standard first nine, McCarthy was only one down.

Jack squared the game with a birdie four at the 13th, and took the lead with another birdie at the 14th.

McCarthy halved the 18th to give New South Wales the match 4-3.

KELSOS HAVE MADE THE CLUB A FAMILY AFFAIR

THREE generations of the Kelso racing family have been closely connected with Tattersall's Club.

They are the present Randwick trainer, Bill Kelso, his father and his grandfather.

And soon there is likely to be another generation connected with Tattersall's because the intention is to nominate Bill's son, William, for membership.

The difficulty with this story is that all the Kelsos were christened William. So we'll call them "grandfather," "father," Bill and "son."

Grandfather owned Lord Orville, after whom the Kelso stables, Orville Lodge, were named.

At his first official race-start, Lord Orville won Tattersall's Club Cup, ridden by "father," who was only 11 years old.

Lord Orville previously had been winning a string of "match-races" at Randwick and Parramatta.

To show what a tough horse he must have been, he won the mile Welter the same day as he won Tattersall's Club Cup.

"Father" Kelso's best win was with Statesman in the 1928 Melbourne Cup, the horse being ridden by Jimmy Munro. Bill Kelso was "father's" stable foreman, and saddled up Statesman for the big race.

"Father" also won numerous weight-for-age races with Son of the Marsh—an English horse he bought for £500.

The Kelso Club Story

BILL KELSO.

He bought Son of the Marsh when he took famous jockey Jim Pike to England. Pike was apprenticed to "father." They both had big offers to stay in England, but they became homesick and returned to Australia.

"Father" was keenly interested in Tattersall's Club. He was one of the few persons who won two Tattersall's Club billiards tournaments.

Bill Kelso has his Orville Lodge stables, Randwick, looking a real "show-place."

Bill has prepared two Summer Cup winners—Persist and Haxton. Among his other big successes was an Oakleigh Plate with Lucky Stride.

Iroquois and Cognac were two good sprinters trained by Bill Kelso.

WHAT'S OUR CHANCE?

Scene from former days: Alec Lash chats with jockey Jack O'Sullivan.

From Bakery to Hurdle Fame!

*A*N intriguing story lies behind Mag Mort—the black Mag-nitude gelding whom club-member Alec Lash turned into a hurdler.

Alec bought Mag Mort from a Cooma baker for £25. The gelding had been trained part-time by a hairdresser, and "rough" would hardly describe his condition.

Well, it wasn't long before Alec was regretting his purchase. Every time he started in a flat-race he finished a furlong last.

Alec used to ride Mag Mort himself in training, often along the beach at Brighton-le Sands.

One day, while Mag Mort was cantering, Alec sighted some brushwood on the beach. On the spur of the moment, Alec sent the gelding at it.

"He took off like an aeroplane," said Alec.

And thus began a successful career for Mag Mort in which he won five races over the hurdles, and one jumpers' flat.

Alec had a theory about why Mag Mort finished so far back in his early flat races. "In Cooma," says Alec, "Mag Mort was used as a ladies' hack, and also for rounding up stock."

"One day, in Sydney, a rider fell off his horse."

"Mag Mort raced up to the horse, and pinned it against the fence."

"It seemed obvious then that Mag Mort, having been a stock-horse, was trying to 'whip in' the field all the time."

"So we worked him with other horses, and made him pass them."

Alec was owner-trainer and work-rider of Mag Mort.

"He was a beautiful specimen, and looked more like a Cup horse than a jumper," said Alec.

Out of Accepted Princess, Mag Mort was jet black apart from a small snip on the nose.

Alec got him as a four-year-old, and he was seven when he unfortunately broke a leg in the Grand National at Flemington, and had to be destroyed.

Mag Mort won one of the last hurdle races run at Randwick, beating Chery Jack.

Alec Lash later bought two brothers and a sister to Mag Mort. However, he must have been something of a freak in the family because the brothers and sister didn't measure up to standard.

Alec Lash has been racing horses for more than 20 years. "I got really interested," he says, "the day Mag Mort jumped that bit of brushwood."

Alec was taught to ride by the "buck-jump king," Lance Skuthorpe.

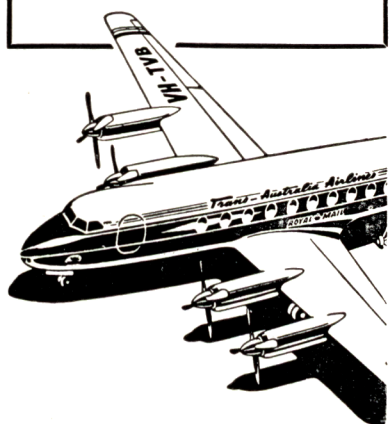

Alec and Skuthorpe got a lot of practice riding at Alec's property in French's Forest.

It was on this property that Alec ran many big gymkhanas for charity.

JACK LLOYD is back with us after a round-the-world trip. The journey took 180 flying-hours. Said Jack: "Somebody reckoned I covered 45,000 miles. I took his word for it." Away for just on 10 weeks, Jack visited nearly every country. In Japan he ran into fellow club-members Steve Blau and Cyril Oswald-Sealy. At Las Vegas Jack says he won a few dollars ("Spent it, of course"). At San Francisco Jack played golf at the Olympic Club, with which Tattersall's is affiliated. This club has two golf-courses—the Ocean and the Lakes. The Lakes course is a very difficult inland circuit. Jack, who plays off a six handicap, had a hit on the Ocean course (trust him to pick the easier one) and he finished with six over par. Jack reckons the best golf course he has ever seen is about 10 miles outside Barcelona. Says Jack: "This course is not quite two years old, but in my opinion it's close to perfect. It's a real pleasure to play there."

GEORGE EPSTEIN due to arrive back from South Africa after 11 months at Durban. George no doubt will get a thrill out of seeing the racehorse Luck's a Fortune carry his colours.

CLIFF SALMON has been in Adelaide on business.

NOEL HOUGH and Alec Gibson have left post-haste for Surfers' Paradise. The reason: "Bunky" Naylor caught a 1½ lb. whiting, measured it with great precision, and sent photographs of it to his numerous friends. Noel and Alec are determined to land a "whopper" to silence "Bunky's" exuberance. Now, we can't vouch for accuracy of the following (because the facts were supplied by a gentleman with a twinkle in his eye). But we're told "Bunky" has been invited by the president of the South Coast Anglers' Association to deliver a lecture on the finer points of rod-fishing. The same gentleman informs us that "Bunky" is now so keen that the other morning he was rowing out with great vigour and wondering why he wasn't making any progress. In his haste, he had forgotten to pull up the anchor.

JIM CROMWELL has taken to golf again after giving it a rest for a while.

JUDGE HOLDEN and John Hession get in a game of snooker late on Friday afternoons, whenever possible. We're told that this weekly contest is as keen as you'd find anywhere in the world, and when the black is potted there is never a great difference in the scores.

CHARLES ROBINSON, when entertaining his friends in Tattersall's Club dining-room, has the happy knack of being able to make it a wonderful time for everybody. Charles is renowned as a connoisseur of foods and wines.

THE marriage of John Holmes' daughter, Patricia, with John Proudford took place at Double Bay, with the reception at Hotel Australia. Among other club members present were Reg Kenyon and Dr. Bernard Riley.

S. N. ALLEN, of "Nonda," Boggabri, is spending a short while with us at the club. Mr. Allen's brother, Frank, is also a Tattersall's Club member.

Members Vie for Melbourne Cup

FIRST and second horses in this year's Melbourne Cup are owned and trained by members of Tattersall's Club.

The winner, Straight Draw, is owned by Ezra Norton and trained by Jack Mitchell.

Second horse, Prince Darius, is owned by Horace and David Abbott, and trained by J. W. "Clyde" Cook.

This has been a great season for Mr. Norton. He has always been keenly interested in racing, and his colours were carried to success in sprint events by such handy gallopers as Young Veilmond, Blue Flag and Blue Ensign.

But Mr. Norton has a liking for stayers, and this spring he saw Straight Draw courageously win the A.J.C. Metropolitan Handicap (13f.) after a tremendous struggle with Gallant Lee all the way down the straight.

Raised 5 lb.

Penalised 5 lb. for that win, Straight Draw—a five-year-old bay gelding by Faux Tirage (imp.) from Sunbride (imp.)—carried 8.5 in the £15,500 Melbourne Cup (2m.) at Flemington on November 5.

Straight Draw, who cost Mr. Norton 2,000 guineas as a yearling in New Zealand, was ridden to perfection by Noel McGrowdie in the Cup.

"Parked" just behind the leaders most of the way, Straight Draw assumed control from Gallant Lee and Monte Carlo on straightening up.

Prince Darius, who was also ridden a great race by Athol Mulley, challenged inside the final furlong, but Straight Draw was able to hold him off, and, in fact, increase his margin a little near the line.

Mr. Norton was not in Melbourne to watch the race, and Jack Mitchell accepted the trophy on his behalf.

It was a thrilling moment for Jack. He had won three Sydney Cups—two with Veiled Threat and one with Sir Falcon—but his ambition had always been to notch a Melbourne Cup.

Our congratulations go to him in achieving that ambition.

STRAIGHT DRAW'S GREAT WIN

STRAIGHT DRAW

To the owners of Prince Darius, Horace and David Abbott, and to trainer "Clyde" Cook, we offer our commiserations.

Throughout the A.J.C. and V.R.C. spring carnivals, Prince Darius—a truly gallant three-year-old—had had to play "second fiddle" to that mighty youngster, Tulloch.

Now, in open company, he again had to be content with second placing in Australia's glamour handicap.

Strangely enough, Tulloch—the horse who eclipsed Prince Darius—is also owned and trained by members of Tattersall's Club.

Winning Sequence

Len Haley, who hasn't been enjoying the best of health, has been hearing his valuable possession, Tulloch, string up a sequence of wins and do it so impressively that he is now being compared with the immortal Phar Lap.

A true horse-lover, Len has owned many above-average horses, including King's Head.

He also bred that phenomenal sprinter, Pamelus.

Tommy Smith—the trainer of Tulloch—has had a remarkable season, setting prizemoney-records at both the A.J.C. and V.R.C. spring carnivals.

Only 40 years old, Tommy has had a meteoric rise to fame. He came from the Riverina with one horse—a "crock" named Bragger—and has emerged as the most successful mentor of horses in Australia's turf history.

HERMIT WAS NO CRAB

One of the most remarkable sale-ring stories concerns Hermit, winner of the 1867 English Derby.

Mr. Henry Chaplin, aged 25, bought Hermit for 1000 guineas at the Middle Park sale of yearlings in 1865.

The very next lot to enter the sale-ring was a colt by Dundee from Shot, who also realised 1000 guineas, the successful bidder being Mr. James Merry.

This youngster was later named Marksman, and he ran second to Hermit in the Derby.

Six years earlier Mr. Merry had exactly the same experience when Dundee, which he bought for 170 guineas, finished second to Kettledrum, which Colonel Townley bought for 400 guineas.

Reverting to Hermit, the colt broke a blood-vessel just before the Derby.

His owner wanted to scratch him, but a well-known sportsman of the time, Captain Machell urged that Hermit take his place in the field.

His request was acceded to, with very satisfactory results.

The Marquis of Hastings—probably the greatest gambler in the turf history of any country—lost heavily over Hermit's win.

There was personal animosity between the Marquis and Hermit's owner.

Because of this, the Marquis laid Hermit for more than £100,000.

Snooker team has grand win over a powerful City Tattersall's side

WELL, what do you know?
... Our snooker team beat City Tattersall's No. 1 side in the weekly inter-club tournament.

City Tattersall's was strongly fancied to take out the title, but in one of the early matches we beat them 4-2, with one game unfinished.

The matches are played weekly, mainly on Tuesday or Wednesday nights. Details about forthcoming games are posted on the club notice-boards.

Tattersall's Club team has changed around a bit. Members who have represented the club so far are Arthur Bull, Bill Longworth, George Mousally, Hans Robertson, "Johnny" Norton, Eric Westhoff, Jack O'Neill, G. J. M. Watson, Alec Lash, Fred Vockler, Ted Davis, Roy Bryden, John Peoples, Tom Dwyer, J. H. Farrar, Ken Fidden, Vince Kirby, and Alick Buckle.

Out of its first four matches, Tattersall's won two and lost two.

Exhibition

A CROWD of more than 200 members and friends turned up to watch a snooker exhibition by amateur champions Bob Marshall and Warren Simpson.

The exhibition took place on our first floor clubroom on Tuesday night, October 30.

Simpson, who is one of the most natural "potters" ever to pick up a cue, defeated Marshall by three frames to two.

Marshall was in wonderful touch in the first frame, which he won 92-39.

He also maintained the form in the second frame, winning it by 58 to 32.

Then Simpson struck form with a vengeance, and took the final three frames 88-18, 83-15 and 66-36.

The players and officials of the Amateur Billiards Association were entertained in the club by the chairman of the billiards and snooker sub-committee, Mr. Alick Buckle, and Bill Longworth.

DOUBLE TITLE TO ARTHUR BULL

ARTHUR BULL is Tattersall's Club champion for 1957 in both billiards and snooker.

In the club handicap-tournaments, preceding the championships, players of Arthur's high calibre have little chance.

They are handicapped on their merit. And while they might win a few rounds, they only have to play one mediocre game and they are no match for the long-marker.

Arthur Bull is a delightful cueist. He has a splendid sporting record, having represented Australia at sculling. And in billiards and snooker he plays with a true sporting spirit.

Always keen, and striving to maintain concentration whatever the ability of his opponent, Arthur is a treat to watch.

Whenever he comes in for a "social" match on the second-floor, a large "gallery" is soon in attendance.

Snooker Title

Arthur's first match of the snooker championship was against G. J. Watson.

George played quite well, but Arthur was in touch and won 51-24, 74-22.

An important contest of the series was between Bill Longworth and Boyd Lane. It was always interesting, because Boyd has the ability to extend any player in the club.

However, Bill gained the day by winning 66-42, 55-46.

Now for a real thriller—Fred Vockler v. Eric Westhoff. This had the spectators on pins and needles.

Fred actually won both frames, but only after a mighty struggle. He scraped home in the first by one point—52 to 51—and the second was nearly as close—58 to 53.

Fred Vockler hardly picks up a cue nowadays. But we are told, on good authority, that in his younger days he was a veritable "wizard of the green-cloth."

One keen judge says Fred, if he had devoted himself to the sport full-time, might have become an Australian champion.

But how hard it is to maintain form when you don't get much practice. In the very next match, Fred succumbed to Arthur bull, 28-56, 10-62.

Arthur, made keen by the fact that Fred has been a great cueist, produced some marvellous shots in this game.

Next we had an exceptionally hard-fought encounter between George Mousally and Bill Longworth.

George won the first game 57-36, while Bill took the second 57-38. The third and deciding frame was won by George, 60-32. Congratulations to both men for their very capable efforts.

Fought Back

The final between Bull and Mousally was the best of five frames. Arthur won the first 63-28, and looked like "walking in" the match.

But George fought back, and put up one of his best performances in recent years by winning the second frame 39-38.

However, in the face of such skilled opposition, George could not maintain the pressure, and Arthur won the last two frames 76-19, 57-9.

Arthur Bull had Jack O'Neill for his first-round opponent in the billiards championship.

Jack is another who has been a high-class player, but now lacks practice. And so it was that Arthur was able to beat him 350-131.

Eric Westhoff is one of the best tournament-players in the club. But on this occasion he found Bill Longworth in devastating form, and Bill won 350-183.

Hans Robertson clashed with Fred Vockler. Hans was always stroking smoothly and emerged victorious by 350-208.

Arthur Bull again—this time beating George Mousally 350-146.

Thriller

And now we had an eagerly-awaited "battle of the giants"—Bill Longworth v. Hans Robertson.

They did not disappoint us, and the gallery was treated to a thrilling exhibition before Bill gained the winning point to score by 350 to 321.

The final, of 500-up, was a triumph for Bull. Bill Longworth tried hard to produce the high-quality play of which we know he is capable, but he was a little below form, and Arthur ran out a winner by 500 to 272.

Arthur made one break of 90, and two others of 50.

EDDIE DAVIS TOPS AT HANDBALL

THE club championships have been successfully concluded after the best series in our history, with Eddie Davis as club champion and Bruce Partridge as runner-up.

To maintain interest, your Handball Committee arranged a new competition for the Segenhoe Trophy, donated by our good friend Lionel Israel.

Many thanks, Lionel. The boys appreciate your generosity and they assure you that the efforts to win your trophy will be very keen.

The competition is a handicap event and is played on what we call "Tops and Bottoms" principle.

A complete draw is made of all entries. When the first round is completed, the winners stay in the "top half" and the losers go into the "bottom half."

This gives the members in the bottom half a second chance. As they lose from that point they are eliminated and the losers in the "top" half drop to "bottom" half.

The competition progresses until there are only two players left—one in the top half and one in the bottom half.

If, in the final game, the top half player is beaten, he has the right to a challenge to a grand final, and the winner of the grand final (if any) wins the trophy. NEAT, EH?

Remember, members, this is a handicap event and everybody has a chance.

The members are very keen to win this trophy, and already several first-round matches have been played, and some surprises have taken place.

The first upset was Jim Coman's win over Bill Kirwan.

After his grand performance in the club championship, Bill was considered a "certainty."

However, Jim has had some secret gallops, and Bill could not handle him at all.

Jim won 41-29.

Peter Lindsay had a tough match against Keith Longworth.

He won 41-35, but it was anybody's game all the way. Keith only has to improve a little bit to have a chance in this event.

Leigh Bowes had a nice win over Sid Kay, 41-34.

Peter Williams defeated John Brice 41-37, but only after a terrific struggle.

Tom Abernethy won his game with Col Bowes 41-34, and John Shaffran surprised Bruce Chiene by winning 41-37. John was confident all the way, and although Bruce pressed him towards the finish, he had that bit in reserve to win nicely.

This is a good start to what should be a grand event.

Trophy Match

On Sunday, Oct. 10, at the Eastern Suburbs Police Citizens Boys' Club, our Club competed with handball clubs Bondi, Coogee, Balmoral and Clovelly for a trophy presented by Mr. Neville Lynch. Our team was E. E. Davis, Tom Abernethy and W. Sellen, with Arthur McCamley as manager.

We were not very successful in the competition, Eddie Davis being the only one to win a match.

It was a championship knockout event, 21 up, and the winner was Frank Frankowski, from Coogee Club.

This young man, who was in superb condition, defeated Steve Nolan in the semi-final after the best game I have ever watched, and went on to win the trophy by defeating Perce Galea in the final.

After the handball we were entertained at a very nice luncheon, with suitable refreshments beforehand, and I must say to the organizers: "Thank you for a very nice day."

I cannot let this opportunity pass without a word of praise for Sergeant Joe Reed, who is in charge of the Police Boys' Club in Paddington.

He made us very welcome and conducted us around the club, of which he is very proud — and so he should be.

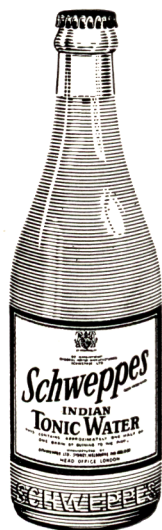

If any person who has donated money at any time to this worthy organisation would take the trouble to go out to Paddington and get Joe Reed to show him around, he would be well rewarded in seeing how his money has been used.

The police and citizens have done a magnificent job, and the youngsters in that district are certainly lucky.

I believe, from my talks with Joe Reed, that the young people realise how lucky they are, and they appreciate everything being done for them.

The Partner of Gin!
Schweppes TONIC WATER

Schweppervescence lasts the whole drink through!

"First-up" success to Herman

HAROLD HERMAN had the honour of winning the first monthly point-score of the 1957-58 swimming season.

But he only overhauled Keith Longworth in the last event of the series to win by a mere half-point.

The new season opened on October 15 and it looks a "certainty" to eclipse all previous records because, following an opening field of 34, the next three events attracted 37, 44 and 37 starters.

Forty-four starters constitutes the best field since the Swimming Club was formed 30 years ago.

So far, 52 members have started in the races for an average of 38 a race, and 35 heats and 10 finals were contested in the first four events.

Three division-finals are necessary these days for individual races and it has been decided by the committee that the large fields warrant the holding of three finals where nine or more qualify for them.

New Members

Ten new members have already raced, and the Swimming Club is very happy to have such fine men with it as Graham Cole, John Daniel, John Brooker, Harry Bate, Ossie Bates, Bruce Vickery, Ernie Phillips, Theo Tyndall and John McSwiney.

The boys were also "tickled pink" to see Alan Stewart and Peter Williams on deck after some seasons' absence.

In Graham Cole, an ex-Associated Schools star, the club has a decided acquisition as he swam 20.8 sec. in a race and had the doubtful honour of being first of the season to lose a second.

Theo Tyndall got into a final at his first attempt, but he jibbed after the barrier rose as he thought he had gone before his time and lost his chance. The hard-heads all rushed to tell Theo never to stop, so he'll know better from now on and it won't be long before he lands a final.

Alan Stewart soon showed that he had lost none of his pace by winning two finals in 22.1 and 21.9. A too-speedy start earning disqualification, probably lost him the monthly Point-score trophy.

Handicap Rise

Ernie Phillips joins brothers Carl and Bill in the Club, and reflected glory gave the handicapper an enhanced idea of his form.

But a rise of two seconds in his handicap has him in the running now.

By the way, brother Carl, ex-Junior N.S.W. champion, is swimming regularly these days and his 19.8 win challenges club champion Bill Kendall's best of the season of 19.7.

On the opening day, 1956-57 monthly point-score trophies were presented to Harold Herman and George Goldie, and the "H. E. Davis" trophy to Cuth. Godhard.

Another nice gesture was the presentation to the Club starter, Sam Block, of a new stop-watch by Cuth. Godhard.

With the presentation was a card reading: "To the Gestapo, with regards from us all" and a poetic effusion:

"When you reduce our handicap

We often doubt the clock;

But this one's tested, tried and true,

So if we lose a sec' or two,

We won't blame Sammy Block!"

On October 29, Dick Dowling put in his first appearance since his round-the-world tour and was presented with his point-score trophy.

Jim Comans has been away at Surfer's Paradise. He left immediately after winning a heat. Must have been scared of losing his hard-earned extra second.

To Geoff Laforest and his wife go the Club's best wishes on the new addition to the family.

Swimmers have been pretty skittish for the start of the season, being too toey at the start and receiving the check-starter's "thumbs down." Alan Stewart, Graham Cole, Gordon Boulton, Col Bowes, Ross Stanford and John McSwiney all were in this category.

Best winning times of the month were: 19.7 Bill Kendall, 19.8 Carl Phillips and Bill Kendall, 20.8 Graham Cole, 21.2 Bob Harris and Keith Longworth, 21.3 Arthur Alsop, 21.4 and 21.6 Graham Cole, 21.7 Leigh Bowes and Arthur Alsop, 21.9 Alan Stewart.

Club member's Mosman win

CONGRATULATIONS to Jack Madgwick on a fine win in the final of the Mosman Club's pairs championship.

Owing to business reasons, Jack does not play regularly with Tattersall's bowlers.

Recently, as a visitor, he enjoyed a pairs game with us, having Dick Reltova as a partner against Jack Shaffran and Jack Eaton.

Frank Geddes—a recent affiliate to the Bowling section—has shown he is a class bowler in winning a trophy as a skipper.

He has been a constant attender since he joined the section, indicating how he enjoys his game with us.

Welcome to new member A. G. Connolly. At his first organised game with us he surprised us all. He started in the right manner with a course of lessons from Gordon Sargeant.

Trial Game

Club member Harold Hill has been selected to play in the trial game to select a team to represent Australia in the Empire Games in Wales next year.

He was also chosen to represent New South Wales against Queensland in games starting on November 29.

Harold played third for Albert Newton, and his team won all three matches.

The best wishes of all club members go with Harold, hoping he will attain his ambition to represent Australia.

Hill's team, with good wins at Bellevue Hill and Warrawee, comprises Ken Ranger (3rd), Swannie Schwarz (2nd) and Jack Pick (lead).

A very well balanced team, they have the ability to extend the best players in the game.

Charlie Cohen is consistently bowling well.

Recently at Waverley in a regular triples game on a Friday, a measure was called for by Charlie.

Jack Pick told Charlie to write a ticket for himself on any horse the next day for £50 if he was right.

Charlie's bowl won, and what do you think the pick was? . . . only Tulloch in the Caulfield Guineas the next day.

Annual Match

On October 25 the ninth annual match against Waverley was held at Double Bay.

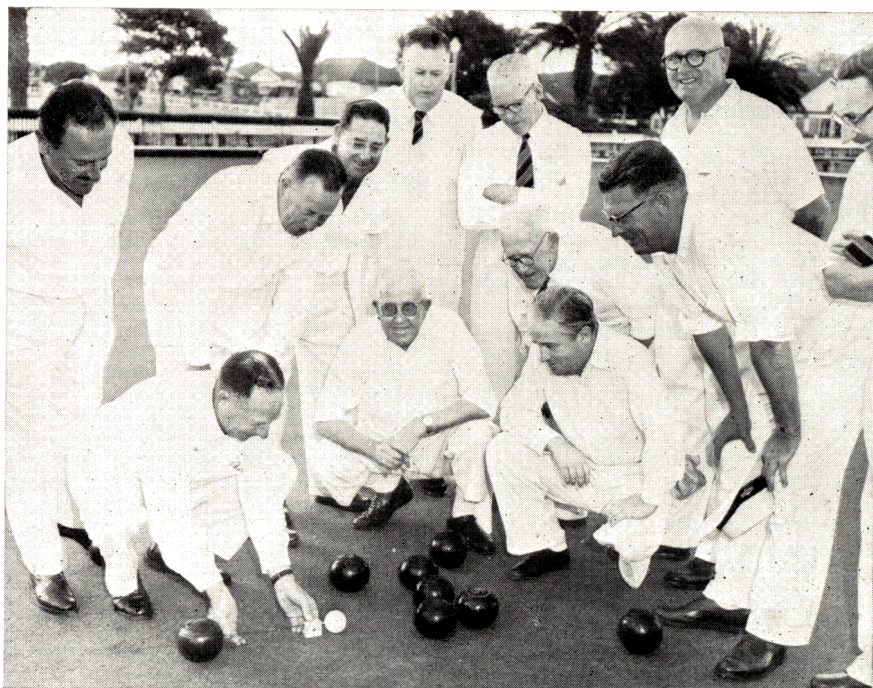

Our guests were represented by their strongest teams.

Tattersall's also had its best players, but was no match for Waverley, who won on five rinks while we were successful on three.

Following are the detailed results:

E. Raynor, H. Preece, S. Greville, T. Thompson (Waverley); J. Hackett, E. A. Davis, A. Turner, G. Booth (Tatts), 20-29.

Our gardening "champ" got up early to see classy sprinter

THE club's champion gardener, Bill Kirwan, attributes his gardening success to early rising.

Bill Kirwan started to get up early when he owned that great sprinter Native Son.

Frequently Bill went to the track to see his champion trial, and that meant a very early rise.

Native Son's wins included a Villiers and a Carrington.

But probably his best win was his effortless success over 7 f. 27 yds. one day at Randwick. Carrying the huge impost of 9.10, Native Son ran the distance in 1 min. 23½ secs.

Native Son was only a five-year-old when he strained a tendon, spelling finish to his brilliant career.

He might have developed into one of the greatest milers of recent times.

He was allotted equal top weight, 9.10, with Royal Gem for an Epsom Handicap. He did not start.

Native Son is hale and hearty at Cowra, where he has won numerous ribbons and cups as a hack in the show-ring.
